CIRCA 1984

TOM NITZKOWSKI
CIRCA 2004

Tom Nitzkowski

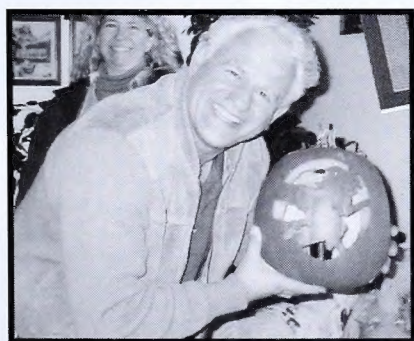

"He's kind. He's the kindesthearted person I know. He is truly kind to the core."

---Linda Hampton

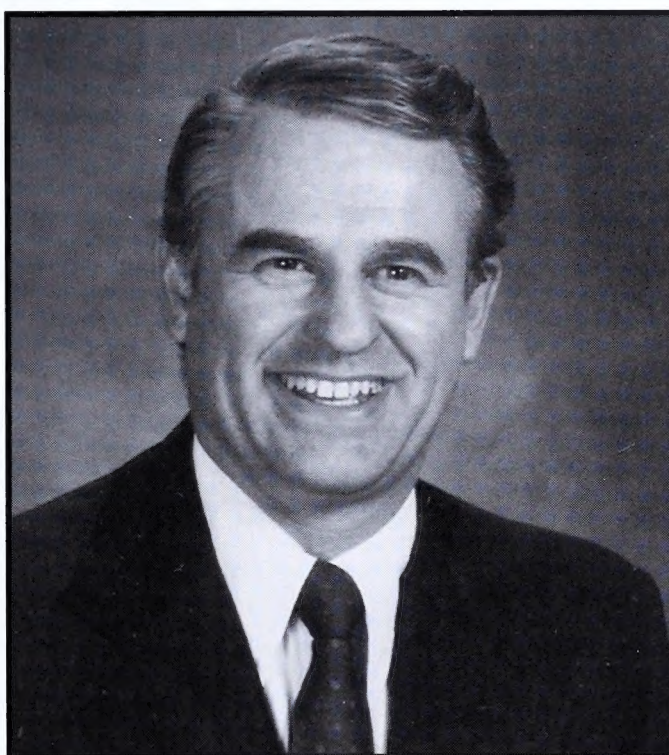

"He is the first to get here in the morning and the last to leave at night, and he's never been anything but happy and kind."

---Kody Partridge

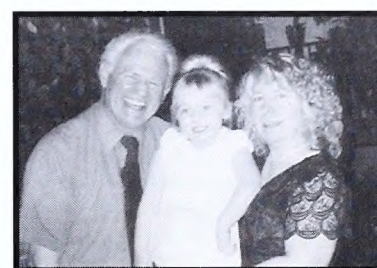

"His dedication to the school can go unnoticed, but if you take a step back, you can't help but notice that it is his dedication that keeps the school functioning."

--Senior Martha Hauser

The 2005 yearbook staff is proud to dedicate the yearbook to everybody's favorite custodian, Tom Nitzkowski. An RHSM icon, he has worked at the school for twenty years. From opening jammed lockers to keeping food out of the hallways, Tom keeps everything running smoothly and no one, students or faculty, can imagine what we would all do without him. We want to thank you, Tom. Your devotion to the school and to the students is appreciated by everyone. We are all grateful for your loyal presence and we appreciate everything that you have done for the school throughout the years.

THANK YOU TOM!

"He's got a great lookin' head of hair!"

---Barron Schmidt

"It's hard to imagine the place without him."

---Bill Baxter

"He supports the school. He's always been there to tell the cast how excited he is about our involvement in every play."

---Junior Lauren Wood

COMMUNITY

SERVICE

Half Day of Service

Half Day- Whole Heart

The second annual Half Day of Service was a huge success. The number of organizations Rowland Hall- St. Mark's students worked with were numerous. They included Heart & Soul, Tree Utah, Neighbors Helping Neighbors, Crossroads Thrift Store, Red Butte Gardens, The Ronald McDonald House, The Neighborhood House, Wasatch Community Gardens, International Rescue Committee, Crossroads Urban Center's Utah HUD Tenants, The Sharing Place, The Utah Food Bank, LifeCare Bank, The Christmas Box House, and Horizonte.

Lindsey Adams, Maran Smith, and Erin Butler are certainly having fun at their service project.

Rowland Hall Students helped to register over 150 new voters.

Michael White, Basile Trede, and friends use their super man strength at Wasatch Gardens.

Blaine Martin is having fun watering trees.

Liza Madlang and Christina Skordas made visiting rooms nicer at the Christmas Box House.

Jessica Kohan, David Broadsky, and Andrea Hoffman played music for senior citizens during their Heart & Soul service.

Megan Rolfs sings while she rakes leaves at the Ronald McDonald House.

Sydney Hartsell, Janavi Stone, Sarah Snedaker, Annie Thompson, Jani Ethrington, and Isaak Gerstein take a break from gardening for seniors.

Members of Amnesty help write cards

Amnesty International focuses on advocating for prisoners of war and making people aware of the injustices committed around the world. This year, RHSM helped with the Amnesty booth at the annual Avenues Fair. They also held Holiday Card Action during which RHSM students wrote letters to those being oppressed in hopes of their release from prison.

Community Service Council, led by the young and very able sophomore trio of Olivia Akerley, Jerica Johnson, and Mathilde Williams, had monthly service projects for their members as well as on-going projects. One-time projects included the helping out with the HeadStart Fall Family Festival holiday caroling to senior citizens, volunteering at the Crossroads Urban Center Christmas dinner give-away, delivering food to homebound people on Dr. Martin Luther King, Jr. Day, and making dinner for families at the Ronald McDonald House. On-going projects this year were serving dinner each Monday with the Kids Café and Teen Connect, in which our students called senior citizens each week to help them feel more connected to the community.

National Honors Society worked very hard this year. They pulled off some great group projects, and proved how devoted they all were in the community. Some of the group projects included Light the Night, Adopt a Block, and voter registration. They also celebrated in October with the Halloween Party, which they hope will become a tradition. This year's club leaders were Ryan Goldstein, Sarah Freedman, Anna Parks and Isha Gupta. NHS will miss these committed individuals immensely next year. They showed their peers true leadership skills, and they were very helpful mentors for the younger members.

Students For AIDS Awareness (SAA) had a very successful year. They participated in various projects. They also held some helpful fundraisers. They sold Ben & Jerry's ice cream, adopted families, and helped create care packages for the Christmas holidays.

The newest addition to RHSM's long list of clubs is The Knitting Club. The Knitting Club held a few learning sessions at the beginning of the year. Once participants had made their warm scarves and hats, they donated their creations to those that needed them at the YWCA. All around, Knitting Club had been a great success. It is a club where members socialize and show a part of their artsy side, all while helping others.

Knitting Club officers Kiersten Joesten, Courtney Hammond, and Hannah Collins show off their grand knitting skills.

This year the GayStraight Student Alliance continued to reach out to the whole community. The group's goal is to support all students by promoting acceptance for all students. The GSA worked throughout the year to make our community safe for everyone. GSA worked with the Don't Amend Alliance in the fall to try to defeat Amendment 3 and in April had their "Day of Silence" campaign to recognize youth who cannot come out and whose voices are not heard.

Interact took serving others international once again this year with their La Noche Peruana. It took five months to plan the event and it was well worth the effort! The Peruvian night included a delicious Peruvian meal made by the club's members, a silent auction of Peruvian scarves, blankets, jewelry, and embroidered bags, and presentations about The Hope Alliance. The $2,000 the group raised went to assist The Hope Alliance with their medicals clinics in Peru. The club also sponsored a local family during Christmas time, earning money through several bake sales to provide them with Christmas gifts.

STUDENT COUNCIL

Student Council spent a lot of time reforming their program this year. They brought back many old and buried traditions like senior and faculty authority, school spirit, and a new and improved emphasis on support of our athletic teams. They worked hard during the year setting up for school activities as well as encouraging students to participate in school life. With Travis Schlegel's wild sense of humor and impeccable style, student council made the Winged Lions soar once again.

WOMEN'S SOCCER

Playing the Field

Below: Erin Anderson looking pretty while watching her teammates

The women's soccer team had a good season this year. With a record of three losses and eight wins during the season, this year's girls played strong. Although the team lost to Utah in the first round of play-offs, they were satisfied with their incredible season effort and game play. This year's roster offered four willing and helpful freshmen players for the Varsity team. With Ellie Marker in goal, Sarah Snedaker in defence, and Hillary Dealey-Thomason and Natasha Woolley on offense, these girls proved themselves to be a major asset to the team. Sophomores Liz Elliott, Victoria Heagy, and Alex Jacobs also made themselves known on and off the field. The juniors on the field, Teale Orme, Tori Searl, and Erin Butler, also put in their best effort. Seniors Meghan Norris, Katy Mohrman, Alex Milne, Erin Anderson, and Lindsey Holmer had a major impact on the team. Their positive attitudes and continuous leadership helped the 2004 team through their challenging season.

“My highlight of the day is working with this amazing group of young women. Laughing together, crying together, celebrating together, and working hard together, always, in the end, puts a smile on my face. Just ask Cesspool.”

Right: Senior Alex Milne provided the team spirit and encouragement for the girls throughout the season. Her welcoming attitude towards the game and its components was greatly appreciated.

Above: Senior Katy Mohrman acted as an example by giving all her heart and putting forth an excellent effort. Her aggressive mentality on and off the field met the criteria for a successful team leader.

Coaches: Libby Bolster, Bobby Kennedy, and Michael Yei

Season Results

Even though the Women's tennis team consisted mostly of younger players, the team did exceptionally well at both the region and state tournaments this year. They took 2nd place at regions, qualifying them for the state tournament held at Brigham Young University, where they took 3rd place. The seven varsity players; Stephanie Chard, Mallory Rosenthal, Sophie Ashton, Sarah Freedman, Isha Gupta, Peirce Ingle, and Morgan Sorenson, lead the girls through many tough matches this season.

Running the Trail

Thirty two students laced up their racers and competed for RHSM this season. They combined discipline with infectious enthusiasm to create a team that performed excellently. Although they did not qualify as a team for state, Ryan Goldstein qualified as an individual and placed an excellent 23rd overall. This year also saw the discovery of some new talent to the team like Alex Gardner, Phineas Bynum, and Daniel Lysey, who all participated on the varsity team. Another first this year was a full girls team that consisted of Teal Orme, Anna Parks, Katy Mormon, Ella White, and Alyssa Kriss. The person who led this team to an outstanding year was Chris Bossart who once again was the number one runner on the team and provided an excellent model for the rookie runners.

Put it in the Hoop

What can we say... RHSM men's basketball rules! This year the guys were unstoppable. With the leadership of Coach Derek Bunting, they gained a lot of recognition and respect within the basketball community. Don't let the small team of eight fool you. They were animals on the court and held their own against some top ranked teams. The seniors this year were Simon Park, Chris Bossart, Randall Crail, and Basile Trede. Each was crucial to RHSM's success, and they will be greatly missed.

THIS TEAM HAS SOME REAL POTENTIAL!

This year's girls' basketball season was full of both strong leadership from our lone senior and hope and promise for the future. Under the leadership of senior Katy Mohrman this young team learned the determination and dedication needed to compete at the high school level. Having lost our starting point guard junior Teale Orme to a knee injury early in the season, the rest of the team stepped up and showed that although they were young they were very quick learners. With four returning starters and strong leadership returning, next season holds much in store.

THE SAD THING IS, WE'RE TOTALLY EXHAUSTED AND PRACTICE HASN'T EVEN STARTED YET

Not all athletes wear shoes

The swim team once again was strong and successful this year, lead by their fearless team captains Travis Schlegel and Lauren Wood, and coaches libby Bolster and Larry Jackson. Though small in size, the women and the men once again impressed us with their skills, placing 6th and 4th overall at the 3A level.

DANCE

A Time to Dance

This year, Rowland Hall was the proud home of two dance companies who met on alternating days. The companies preformed at chapels, basketball games, and a number of multi-school concerts.

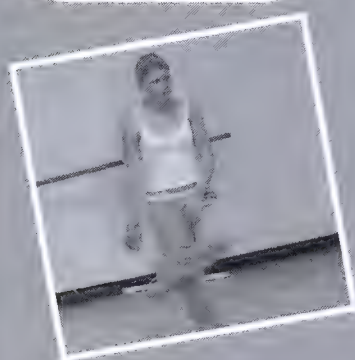

In the spring the two dance companies put on their own full length concert at Rowland Hall - St. Marks. It was a great year for all of the RHSM dancers.

CAROL

NAVAJO SANTA

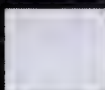

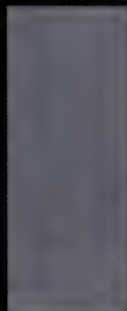

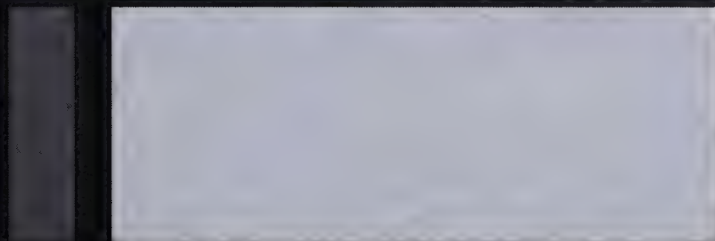

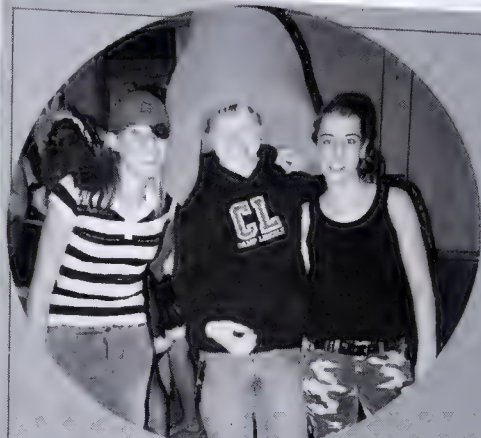

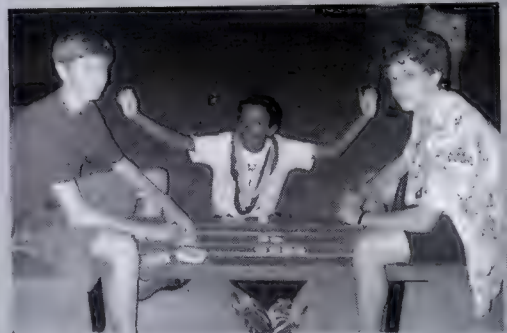

Navajo Santa was bigger this year than ever before. Rather than focusing on fundraising, we focused on service. Thanks to a grant from the Willard L. Eccles Foundation, we earned the $10,000 we needed to purchase gifts for 100 people on the Utah strip of the Navajo Reservation by completing needed service in our local community. Our goal was 1,000 hours of service in two months, but we did even more...1,700 hours of service! The families we visited on the reservation were so appreciative of our efforts and the gifts. The students who went down to the reservation learned that while the Navajo people may not be rich in material wealth, their culture is enormous. They are rich and the people the students met were extraordinarily generous.

To live content with small means;
to seek elegance rather than luxury, and refinement rather than fashion;
to be worthy, not respectable, and wealthy, not rich;
to study hard, think quietly, talk gently, act frankly;
to listen to stars and birds, to babes and sages, with open heart;
to bear all cheerfully, do all bravely, await occasions, hurry never.
In a word, to let the spiritual, unbidden and unconscious, grow up through the common.
This is to be my symphony.
